Superintendent R. D. White Is Amazed by Glendale's Younger Generation

THE Glendale grammar school system opened this morning for the new term with an enrollment of 4308 pupils. Registration the first day of school last September was 3476. Therefore, the increase this term over last year's enrollment is 23 per cent.

Glendale is continuing its phenomenal growth, according to these statistics which are regarded as amazing by Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, owing to the fact that they reveal 100 per cent increase in school population every four years!

Here Are Figures

Enrollment figures, including kindergarten, from the twelve schools under the control of the Glendale city board of education, are as follows:

Wilson—This term, 551; last term, 524; increase, 27.

Glendale—This term, 370; last term, 197; increase, 183.

Columbus—This term, 586; last term, 541; increase, 45.

Broadway—This term, 453; last term, 362; increase, 91.

Central—This term, 348; last term, 292; increase, 56.

Pacific—This term, 507; last term, 422; increase, 85.

Colorado—This term, 238; last term, 232; increase, 6.

Cerritos — This term, 160; last term, 208; decrease, 48.

Doran—This term, 272; last term, 230; increase, 42.

Acacia—This term, 449; last term, 342; increase, 107.

Grandview—This term, 275; last term, 96; increase, 179.

Magnolia—This term, 99, last term, 30; increase, 69.

Reduce One District

With the exception of Cerritos avenue school, where the district was reduced in size, all the schools show an increase in enrollment. This is less pronounced at Colorado than elsewhere because the district was also reduced in size because no addition is contemplated to this school because it is in the business section of the city.

SELF DEFENSE IS PLEA OF KILLER

Cafe Owner's Slayer Admits Shooting in Row Over Debt of $43

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Self-defense was the plea advanced today by Jack Adams, alleged gangster and confessed slayer of Edward ("Babe") Hall, according to the police. Hall was shot early Saturday morning near his fashionable Sycamore Lodge cafe.

Adams and Jimmy Crotty, arrested with Adams, were to be returned here today from El Centro, following the capture of the two men yesterday at Calipatria by Detective Captain George Home and other Los Angeles officers.

Adams exhibited several cuts on the head, which he claimed were inflicted by Hall and claimed that he shot in self-defense, Captain Home said.

Fought Over $43

Both prisoners declared a dispute over $43, with Hall's threats of violence, caused the shooting, the police said.

The shooting of Hall took place outside his cafe and Crotty is said to have carried his body into the fashionable restaurant, where a throng of patrons were making merry.

Crotty, who came here recently from San Francisco, and who is said by the police to be a member of a powerful gang in the northern city, confirmed Adams' explanation of the shooting.

H. W. DUNCAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

World Traveler and Widely Known Land Attorney Leaves Widow, Son

H. W. Duncan died early this morning, September 17, 1923, at his home at 316 West Lomita avenue, after ten months' illness from heart trouble.

Mr. Duncan, who was a brother of the late Dr. A. M. Duncan, for many years a resident and practicing physician of 1607 South San Fernando road, was born near Melmore, Ohio, August 29, 1852, and was educated and spent his early manhood in Ohio.

In 1887 he came to Los Angeles, taking a prominent part in the legal profession and becoming an authority on land grants. Several years ago he retired from active practice, but so well known was he that he was often sought as counsel in land cases.

Extensive Traveler

Mr. Duncan had traveled extensively throughout the United States and foreign countries.

Last May he and his family moved from Los Angeles to Glendale, and Mr. Duncan was anticipating much pleasure being near his brother, Dr. Duncan. But their time together was short, for Dr. Duncan passed away suddenly July 10, and the grief and shock of his death undoubtedly hastened the death of his brother.

H. W. Duncan was a Mason, a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and a member of the American Historical society. He and Mrs. Duncan had been members of the Immanual Presbyterian church for years, but, on moving to Glendale, they united with the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Widow and Son Survive

Besides his widow, Mr. Duncan is survived by a son Arthur G. Duncan, of 613½ East Lomita avenue, and the following nieces: Misses Ida D. and Harriet T. Myers, Miss Carol A. Duncan of 1203 South Central avenue; Mrs. John T. Cate of 406 West Broadway and Mrs. W. H. Hillman of Tulare, Cal.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Vermont Presbyterian church in Los Angeles, with Dr. A. B. Pritchard, the pastor, and Dr. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, officiating.

The L. G. Scovern Undertaking company is in charge of arrangements.

Premier Mussolini Accused of Exercising Control Over Disputed City

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Jugo-Slavia claims that Italy has assumed military control of Fiume, said a Susak dispatch to the Daily Express today. (Administration of Fiume is now in dispute between Italy and Jugo-Slavia and negotiations are in progress to avert a clash.)

According to the Daily Express correspondent there are 70,000 Italian troops in the Trieste section. Premier Mussolini of Italy is accused of exercising strict control over General Giardino, of the Italian artillery, who was appointed military governor of Fiume after the government of Fiume resigned.

Revision of Treaties Proposed by Italy

ROME, Sept. 17.—Premier Benito Mussolini's latest proposals for settling the Fiume dispute with Jugo-Slavia includes revision of the Rappallo and Santa Margherita treaties, it was learned this afternoon.

It is reported that Premier Mussolini and Premier Pasitch, of Jugo-Slavia will soon confer in an effort to reach an understanding regarding Fiume.

The government defends the appointment of General Giardino as military governor of Fiume on the ground such a step will be necessary to maintain order. It was claimed that Fiume was left without adequate ministrative machinery after Vice-President De Poli, of the Fiume assembly, resigned. Attention was called to the fact that Fiume had an Italian government after the surrender of Gabriele D'Annunzio, soldier-poet, for a year.

Officials are hopeful that Jugo-Slavia will not take offense over

Family Honors Senator Cole on 101st Anniversary

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Former United States Senator Cornelius Cole celebrated his 101st birthday today at his Hollywood home. It was a happy celebration with his seven children gathered at the family residence.

"I feel better today than I did when I was 100," he said.

OCCIDENTAL GETS STUDIES STARTED

More Than 500 Enrolled in Eagle Rock Institution of Higher Learning

Occidental college opened its doors this morning for the fall semester. President R. D. Bird is back at the helm after enjoying a splendid vacation in the mountains.

The registration of students at Occidental began last Thursday, and closed Saturday afternoon until next Tuesday morning. President R. D. Bird and Dean Thomas G. Burt, with the aid of most of the professors, have been busy handling the early registration rush.

Dr. Bird states that the registration promises to be the greatest enrollment in the history of the Occidental institution, and will exceed 500. The students are coming from practically every high school in California, and many from the Middle West, to enter as freshmen, and a large number are coming as advanced students from the East and Middle West. Glendale Union High school has contributed its quota.

In the first chapel of the year President Bird addressed the Associated Students and made known his hopes and plans for the coming year and asked the co-operation of the entire student body in making Occidental college larger and better.

Faculty Changes

The members of the faculty who have returned from their vacations are zealous to take up their work, and everything promises the best year that Occidental college has ever seen. The faculty numbers forty-four professors, which includes six new professors, with others to be announced later. They are: Professor S. L. Crawley, A. B., Indiana university, A. M., Columbia, who is to be the new head of the department of psychology; Professor George M. Day, in the department of economics; Professor Osgood Hardy, who takes the place of Dr. Robert Cleland as head of the history department during the latter's leave of absence; Miss Caroline Emerson Hodgdon, in the women's physical education department; Professor Charles F. Lindsey, in the department of rhetoric and public speaking, and Raymond M. Selle, who will assist Dr. Esterly in the department of zoology. Mr. Selle is an alumnus of the Tiger institution.

Fires Sweep State!

FORESTS OF CALIFORNIA BLAZING

Heat Wave Hits Northern Cities; Flames Take Big Property Toll

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—In the grip of a heat wave and with a high northeast wind blowing the worst epidemic of forest fires this season engaged the efforts of hundreds of fire fighters north of here today.

In Sonoma, Napa, Marin and Lake counties the fires were at last reports doing huge damage and defying the efforts of the fire fighters to control them.

The most spectacular of the fires is raging in Sonoma county. In Marin county a fire on the slopes of Mount Tamalpias has reached the Tamalpias forest range and is spreading rapidly. Some concern was felt for the towns of Novato and Ignacio but restored telephone connections brought word that the flames had passed to the south of those places.

In Lake county two fires were reported to the United States forestry service in the Elk mountain district and big damage to the forest reserves was feared.

The whole of the four counties affected were under a pall of smoke which prevented accurate observation of the extent of the fire. Scores of ranch properties have been swept over and the total fire front was estimated at hundreds of miles.

Sonoma County Ranches in Path of Flames

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Fanned by high winds a great forest fire is sweeping Northern Sonoma county ranches today. Already a half dozen big ranches have been swept by the flames including the state of California stock ranch.

Hundreds of fire fighters recruited from the farms and towns are staging a desperate fight to save Fenwood Springs, a summer resort, around which are located many summer homes.

The high wind is hampering the efforts of the fire fighters and they are suffering from the terrific heat. The sky is overhung with the smoke haze from the burning brush, fences and buildings.

The fire started, according to reports to Fire Commissioner John M. McLaughlin, on the Napa county side of the slopes overlooking the Gulicos valley near Kentwood and then burned over the Sonoma county slope.

NEW REVOLT FOMENTED IN SPAIN

Officers Who Were Snubbed Making Trouble for Dictator, Report

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A despatch just before noon from Perpignan, on the Franco-Spanish border, said dissension is evident in Spain. Generals who were not appointed to the directory are threatening trouble. The army engineer corps is demanding representation.

MADRID, Sept. 17.—Dictatorial powers were conferred upon the military directors today by the dissolution of the Cortes. The country remains quiet.

Complete re-organization of the Spanish civil government was begun by the revolutionary conference today in an effort to make it one of the most efficient in Europe. The Spanish directorate has dictatorial powers, now that the cortes is dissolved and is issuing drastic regulations.

The Marquis De Estella (General Primo Rivera) announced that a vigorous new campaign would be started to put down the rebellion of Riff tribesmen in Morocco.

The new government held its first discussion with a foreign power when A. P. Moore, United States ambassador, held a conference with Foreign Minister Espanosa on the subject of prolonging the Spanish-American commercial treaty, which expires November 5. Spain is seeking tariff concessions for fruits, olive oil, and licorice exported to America. It is likely the treaty will be prolonged until 1924.

Outlines Plans

General Primo Rivera was quoted as outlining the directory's plans as follows:

"We will send General Aizpura to Morocco to settle the problem there. We respect the treaties with Raisuli, but will not make a treaty with Abdel Krim. We intend to launch a new offensive in the Melilla zone.

"It is our intention to form a national guard numbering 450,000 men to preserve order.

"A new parliament probably will make some changes in the constitution."

Making Friends

Most of the members of the new government are now in Madrid. The new regime is most anxious to maintain friendly relations with the outside powers. General Primo Rivera called at the embassies and left cards.

General Losada has assumed the post of civil governor of Barcelona.

Telegraphic communication has been re-established, al-

BULGARS BID SERBS BE PEACEFUL

Surprise at Concentration of Troops on Border Is Expressed in Note

The first note contained guarantees that the Bulgarian irregulars (commitadjis) would not make incursions upon Servian soil.

The second Bulgarian note explained that most of the irregular bands were organized on Macedonian and Servian territory. It asked Jugo-Slavia to take the strectest measures to avoid disorders.

CRISIS NEARS IN KLAN'S DEFIANCE OF LAW

Military Rule for Whole State to Insure All From Mob Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The federal government's role in the Oklahoma "civil war" is that of an interested spectator. There is little or nothing to be done in the situation, officials declared, if there was a disposition to do anything.

By ROBERT JAMES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 17.—Virtual warfare existed here today between the visible government of Oklahoma and the "invisible empire" of the Ku Klux Klan.

It was Governor Walton's last ace in a drastic endeavor to enforce his third demand that the Klan cease its alleged influence in politics as a condition on which he would end the bayonet rule started at Tulsa August 14, and carried in effect to cover the entire state Saturday midnight.

One company of infantry and a few other troops were on duty today.

Machine guns overlooked the city hall. One was trained on the door of the county jail, set so that it could be turned on its base to shower bullets toward the county court house.

WORLD COURT IS UP TO SENATORS

Coolidge Will Permit Solons to Settle Problems in Their Own Way

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—President Coolidge is not going to resort to any "big stick" methods to jam through the senate the world court proposal which he inherited from the Harding administration, it was learned today in authoritatiye quarters.

The president himself is publicly silent about future moves concerning the court, but it is significant that the word is being passed quietly around in republican senatorial circles that the senate is to be left to deal with the court in its own way and in its own good time under the new regime.

Considering the opposition to the court that exists among such leaders as Lodge, Massachusetts; Watson, Indiana; Brandegee of Connecticutt, to say nothing of the Borah-Johnson-La Follette irreconciliable group, all of whom largely control the senatorial machinery, it begins to appear that the court's immediate future is decidedly hazy so far as America is concerned.

Silent On Policy

President Coolidge has largely kept his own counsel with respect to his court policy. How much so may be judged from the fact that he has consistently passed over or ignored the written questions touching on the court that are submitted twice a week at the press conferences by capital correspondents. Questions on all other subjects, from coal to ships, have been answered readily enough, but questions on the court have met only silence.

The president, however, has talked of the court situation with a few callers and these have come away with the decided impression that Calvin Coolidge is not going to press the matter before the senate if it appears that to do so will be to invite violent disagreement and a danger of a split in the party. He realizes, it is said, that the republicans, with their slim majority in the new senate, will have a hard enough row to hoe without courting any trouble that can be avoided.

The invitation was extended at the recent board meeting by Mrs. A. L. Drown, president of the Ventura county federation.

An interesting resolution presented to the board was from Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, vice-president of the Los Angeles district, who has been visiting the clubs of Ventura county. She gave the result of her trip in the resolution:

"Whereas, the clubs in the distant counties feel the need of a closer touch with the federation chairmen and the expense of the trips to these clubs is too great for either the federation or individual clubs to finance the visits separately; therefore, be it

Resolved, that contact be initiated in two ways: First, that the district board send at its expense to each county a group of federation chairmen to go either to each club individually or to a joint meeting of clubs; second, that the president of the district choose a chairman to go into each county and visit each club or group of clubs; that an itinerary of her trip be planned by the president; that the traveling expenses be divided equally between the clubs receiving the benefit and the entertainment be provided by the clubs, this trip to be made, if possible, during the first quarter of the year."

Plans for the presidents' council September 25 at the Ebell clubhouse from 10 till 4 o'clock are perfected.

The Los Angeles District Federation headquarters are located at 1007 South Grand avenue, room 202, Los Angeles.

Following the departure of General Giardino for Fiume, this morning, it was stated semi-officially that the appointment is purely temporary and does not indicate Italy will take any precipitate action.

PARTY BAGS FIVE BUCKS IN NORTH

Mt. Lassen Region Yields Lots of Game During Two Weeks' Hunt

Exciting experiences during a two week's hunting trip at their "private" deer preserve in Northern California, are being related to their friends this morning by A. L. Baird of 130 South Brand boulevard, Dr. T. C. Young of 620 East Broadway and H. Reeve Darling of 1519 South Brand boulevard, who returned early yesterday morning from Mt. Lassen.

Five deer were shot by the party and a number of trout were caught—especially by Dr. Young. Some venison was brought back and will be served Friday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club and to the members of the Research Hospital "family".

The automobile was left at Chester and the three "Must-Get-Theirs" were "packed-in" the intervening twenty miles under the direction of their Indian guide, Rube Gould. Upon sighting the camp-site, Dr. Young was chagrined to observe a strange tent upon it. He was of the opinion that a party of campers had intruded.

Greeted by Wives

Upon arrival, however, Dr. Young was greeted by his wife and Mrs. A. L. Baird, who had reached the scene several days previously. On their return trip, they will visit friends at Oakland, Sacramento and Auburn.

A radio equipment permitted the party to keep in nightly contact with the outside world. News was obtained from Denver, Colorado, and Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

This was the fifth annual camping party to his hunting grounds on the part of Dr. Young and Mr. Baird during which time they have killed twenty-six deer. However, it will be their last trip to this particular place as it is now being surveyed preparatory to being converted into Mt. Lassen National Park.

There will be over fifty Glendale Elks aboard, headed by Exalted Ruler James A. Apffel.

It was reported here today that 100,000 acres of the forest country have been burned over by the fire which was thought under control Saturday after burning many days, but the fire blazed forth with renewed fury today.

Mr. Kimball received a letter from the hospital on Saturday, stating that while Mr. Dannel's injuries were not as serious as first expected, they will keep him in the hospital for some time. An X-ray had just been taken and it was found that he had suffered two broken ribs and two fractured vertebrae. Since the fractured vertebrae are up near the neck no operation is thought necessary at this time. However, this injury will require weeks of expert care and rest.

today was suspended by order of the military.

General military headquarters was functioning at the Hucking hotel under command of Colonel W. D. Key of Wewoka. A proclamation provided that all traffic be cleared during the night from midnight to 5 a. m.; that the carrying, purchasing, selling of firearms be prohibited; public meetings banned; spread of literature, making verbal expressions tending to create opposition to military prohibited.

Federal employes were exempt from these general orders where they conflicted with their duties.

Captain Nelson J. Moore of the 160th Service company was in charge of police headquarters, relieving Chief of Police Ray Frazier. The regular police department has not yet been changed otherwise.

The secret service men from the United States department of justice are quietly observing developments.

BURBANK

HEAVY SALES ON REALTY PROJECT

Funds for Street Work and City Park Released By Subdividers

Benmar Hills, a monumental development project approaching the grandiloquent scale of Atascadero, long ridiculed by the poopoos, is sold out to the point of releasing $1,000,000 for street work and $210,000 for a city park, this latter being ten per cent of the total receipts of $2,100,000 for lots sold, as per the original agreement.

"The last piece of official paper has been recorded," announces J. D. Radcliff, secretary-treasurer of the Southern California corporation, the concern handling the property, "thus consummating one of the largest real estate deals ever put over in Southern California."

Scores of prominent people are among the purchasers of lots at Benmar Hills, among them Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles, Mattison B. Jones of Glendale, J. J. Steadman of Hollywood, and J. R. Landis of the American Clay company, former vice-president of the Empire China company, of Burbank.

Uniforms for Band

Burbank's municipal band will march in the great Pasadena Tournament of Roses" parade, smartly uniformed, if E. J. Jackson, president of the melody-makers, has anything to say about it—and he evidently has, for he's already said the above, or words to that effect.

In fact, to be specific, Mr. Jackson said: "What's the matter with out municipal band? Fine! Why should't it be? Let us all get that wonderful boost spirit and make everything all right, which means progressiveness of Burbank. We want to have ready for the New Year's Rose Tournament at Pasadena one of the best bands in Southern California, in otner words, ours! But we can't cut much of a dash there without uniforms. So let's boost ourselves into them, eh, what?"

In a cell of the city jail is an aged man upon whose hoary head tne years press so heavily that they have reduced his mental processes to those of a child once more. This old man nas done no wrong but was given a berth in the local "cooler" more out of charity than anything else.

Now comes the complication that makes the story interesting. This old man, who murmurs feeble fancies the young idea would call mere "goofy" drivel, has a companion that hangs fondly on his every word.

This partner in misery is a faded old dog of the Airedale genre, that has shared no doubt many hardships and vicissitudes in the service of his master. However feeble the philosophies of the old man may be, the dog accepts them as the very sayings of Solomon; and conversely, this weatherbeaten old dog may not have any important contributions to make to the world's store of knowledge but his master dotes on his every syllable.

Should an unkind Providence permit master and dog to depart this vale of tears other than at one and the same interval, it is quite obvious that life would forthwith cease to have any charm for the survivor.

Courtesy of Christians Revealed in Sermon

Rev. Keith L. Brooks at the City Council Chamber yesterday morning gave the weekly Bible lesson to the Presbyterian Brotherhood Class. He reviewed the story of the Apostle Paul's arrest and his hearing before the Jewish Sanhedrin at Jerusalem.

"Almost twenty-five years had elapsed since Paul, as a member of the Sanhedrin, had endorsed the council's prosecution of Stephen," he asserted. "Paul now stood in the very spot where Stephen had stood and also where Christ had stood when Caiphas pronounced Him worthy of death.

"The Christian is to be prepared after one indignity to meekly submit to another if necessary. Those that stood by rebuked Paul for reviling the high priest. Then Paul apologized, acknowledging that the Scripture said: 'Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.'

"The Christian, of all men, is supposed to be courteous. A man is a truly great man who can humbly apologize to one who did him a great wrong. That is Christianity."

Special Music Heard At Sunday Services

Mrs. Frank N. Arnold of 215 East Lomita avenue took the place of Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts of 114 West Park avenue yesterday in the quartet at the Glendale Presbyterian Church. Schroeder of 1808 North Verdugo road played the organ accompaniment.

The twilight organ recital included "Hymn Celeste" by Friml; "Chant Poetique" by Diggle; and "An Evening Song" by Sellars.

The evening solo was sung by Mr. Kelch. It was "The Ninety and Nine" by Stevenson.

Quartet numbers at night consisted "Sing Forth His Name" by Holton and "Abide with Me" by Lorenz. The postlude was Lemaigre's "Allegro."

The morning solo was sung by Mrs. Arnold. It was "Jesus Only" by Rotoli.

VAN NUYS PERMITS HIT MILLION MARK

Band Concert Tuesday Night ---Lankershim Men Have Thrilling Experiences

August building permits in Van Nuys reached $100,680, bringing the total for the year to $999,569. It's over a million now. With four months yet to be heard from, 1923 may end with $1,500,000 of building on the books, feel those in close touch with the situation.

The total number of permits for August was 70, divided as follows: dwellings, 23; business, 4; poultry, 6; miscellaneous, 37.

Tomorrow night, September 18, the Community band will entertain residents and visitors, the occasion being "Bargain Day," announces H. L. Fiscus, band leader. Several skilled saxaphonists from Minnesota have recently been added to the band, according to Mr. Fiscus, and a good concert can be expected.

A $10,000 warehouse is to be erected by the Fernando Valley Feed & Fuel company on Aetna street, Van Nuys, facing the S. P. railroad siding, in the rear of Warehouse No. 1, work to start October 15, the capacity to be 200,000 tons, it is reported by officials of the company.

Plans are under way to organize in Lankershim a building and loan association. About twenty local business men are back of the project. Recently they met at luncheon with Gilbert Beesemeyer and George Dexter, of the Guarantee Building & Loan assothe proposition.

A committee has been appointed to investigate further into the matter, comprising C. C. Bowerman, H. J. Penfield and R. W. Blanchard. It is probable that if this committee reports favorably, such an organization will be formed, with a capitalization of $100,000.

"The object of such an association is primarily to make loans of a character not possible for a bank to make," say the organizers "The loan association will advance money on clear lots, for building purposes, and be reimbursed in monthly payments. The bank, on the other hand, rarely lends except on improved property. It is to bridge this hiatus between the clear lot and the completed home that loan companies are necessary," they point out.

Near-Fatal Accidents

C. A. Bostelman escaped death by a narrow margin, last Saturday morning, when the ground in the rear of his store collapsed and let him down into an old cesspool.

Fortunately, the plank he was carrying caught across the edges. (Almost as it might have done in the movies!) And, miraculously, he was unharmed, being pulled from its precarious position immediately by Bill Cass and Sam Smith, who were near by.

Oscar A. Duncan likewise had a narrow escape that morning, being hit by a Pacific Electric car while driving to his office. With a miraculousness equal to that befalling Mr. Bostelman, his machine was shoved along the track and he was able to steer it and ultimately escape the path of the car.

The P. E. car had its fender damaged and the auto of Mr. Duncan was put slightly out of repair as well.

Presbyterian Pastor Resumes Pulpit Work

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, resuming his work after his vacation, yesterday morning was greeted by a large congregation at the Presbyterian church.

"Spiritual Mountain Tops" was the subject of the sermon from "Solomon's Song."

"One cannot come to the Song of Solomon except with the most high and pure spirit," he commented. "It is the holy of holies. Here is the love of God for His church under the symbol of the most ideal marriage relation.

"You have been thrilled this vacation by the heights. Have you been to the spiritual heights? Searching Scriptures you find some of the greatest subjects are mountain experiences; Abraham on Moriah; Moses on Sinai and then on Nebo, Elijah on Carmel, Christ on Golgotha, then ascending into glory from Olivet and some day upon Olivet He shall come down again.

"It is a great day in the life of the believer when you get realization of great truths whereon you stand—when you see. So much we live a hazy life, like a dim eclipse with no clear conceptions. The greatest thing is that you shall see Jesus and see Him clearly."

Extend Closing Date of Slogan Contest

The date set for the closing of the contest originated by the Rogers Una-Drive Corporation, 117 West Harvard street, has been extended until October 15, as some contestants gained a wrong impression regarding the requirements of the slogan that the firm is seeking. The slogan must associate the city of Glendale with the Rogers Four Wheel Drive trick which is to be manufactured here, and the prize of $100 for the lucky winner is attracting many answers to the contest, which will be passed on by a committee of three unprejudiced judges.

The heaviest showers were reported in Pasadena, where .10 of an inch of water fell, according to the official gauge. After many weeks of deliberation by the most brilliant men in America, the Constitution for the United States was completed, signed and submitted to the various states for ratification.

It is the greatest governmental document ever conceived by man.

It is the foundation upon which has been builded the dominating nation of the world.

The theory and purpose of those wonderful men who drafted that Constitution are clearly shown in the 52 words of the Preamble,—52 words that every true American,—man, woman, boy or girl—should read,—and understand.

Here they are:

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Was there ever higher purpose in any human document?

"Economy Makes Happy Homes and Sound Nations"
—George Washington.

—It has been truly said that the American home is the safeguard of American liberty. Therefore, all practical encouragement and assistance should be given the man who wants to build his own home. —Your money deposited in the Golden State Building Loan Association does more than earn 6 per cent interest for you. It helps to make possible the building of more homes—more work for the building trade—more business for Glendale—more growth for the city, and more prosperity for everyone who lives here.

SYNDICATE WILL SUBDIVIDE TRACT

Sixty-six Acres of Verdugo Canyon Property to Be Placed on Market

The Albert Searl property in the Verdugo Canyon, lying on the right side of the road between the Haddock-Nibley Egyptian Temple and their Happyland Amusement Park, has been taken over by a Glendale syndicate, through the agency of the T. W. Watson company, 708 East Broadway, in conjunction with A. L. Baird of the Roy L. Kent company, 130 South Brand boulevard, and will be subdivided into high class restricted sites and placed on the market soon, according to an announcement made this morning by T. W. Watson.

The property, which is a part of the original Verdugo estate whose first title came from a Spanish king, comprises approximately 66 acres, reaching from Verdugo Road to the top of the hill and overlooking the entire San Fernando valley.

Watson in Charge

Mr. Watson states that he will have charge of the subdivision of the old estate, sales being conducted by himself and Mr. Baird jointly. Oak trees cover a considerable portion of the property, he reports, the location being about opposite the junction of Wabasso way with Verdugo Road.

"Acquisition of this property adds another unit to the rapidly developing foothill section of Glendale," says Mr. Watson. "Realizing the superiority of such homesites as those we will offer here, we plan development in a manner befitting the class of property involved."

40 HUSKIES OUT FOR OXY ELEVEN

'Timberwolf' Pipal Sees His Prospective Pigskinners in Action

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News

Occidental college football squad had its first official workout on Paterson field last Saturday afternoon, when close to forty huskies appeared on the grid and limbered up under the direction of Head Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal and Assistant Coach E. O. Rundquist, formerly of Illinois university.

Things look promising for a conference championship eleven this season, and the Tiger fans are already doping the season's results. Coach Pipal states he believes things were much brighter at the beginning of the season this year than last, as there are only four lettermen not returning this year.

Will Miss Good Men

Captain Gene Cory, Warren Meeker, Dave Davidson and Charlie Dividian, of the 1922 varsity will be missed. However, there are a world of last year's freshmen conference champs in line as candidates for the varsity team.

Captain Tony Spangler has reported for training and is anxious to see his team under way. He has high hopes of downing Oxy's ancient rival, Pomona, and says that the chances were never as encouaging for a victory over the Sagehens.

Some of the Tiger stars already out for practice are Spangler. Cliff Argue, Clarence Ebers, Stan Creswell, Dave Ridderhoff, Art Garey, Chevis Westgate, Priaulx, Johnson, Norton, B. Stevens, N. Stevens, Percel, Lindquist, McDonald, Creighton, Chandler, Snody, Goodenough and Shoaf.

AMATEUR GOLFERS ON FAST COURSE

Bobby Jones and Chick Evans Expected to Qualify in Chicago Play

By ROBERT E. HARLOW
For International News Service

FLOSSMOOR COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, national open champion, and Chick Evans of Chicago, former holder of both national and amateur titles, were favorites to win medal honors in the qualifying round of the national amateur championship, when the final eighteen holes were played today.

Jones and Evans played the first round Saturday in 75 strokes, a shot worse than the score of Bob Gardner. A field of twelve starters trailed these three stars.

Today's play will determine the thirty-two players who will qualify for the championship, to be decided at match play starting Tuesday. It was estimated that scores of 160 or better for the thirty-six holes of medal play would be required to qualify.

Saturday thirty-four contestants did eighty or better. Practically all of the known stars played well enough so that good rounds today will win them places in the match play. Jesse Guilford of Boston, who won the title two years ago, took 83 Saturday and needed a good round today.

TAGGING THE BASES

With pop bottles to the left of them and pop bottles to the right of them, the Giants loped to a 10 to 6 decision over the Cubs in the presence of Commissioner Landis and President Heydler. The bottles were directed, impartially, at the Giants and Umpire Moran, whose decisions failed to meet with general favor.

Mogridge and Russell were equally obliging in the matter of base hits and the Browns beat the Senators, 7 to 3.

The Cards made it three out of four from the Phillies by winning in the ninth on Freigau's single, 3 to 2, Shordell outpitching Ring.

Nothing is left of a bursting bubble, but when too many of your bubbles burst nothing is left of you.

THE PENNANT RACE

The Yanks woke up today to find that they need only one more victory to clinch the American league pennant for the third time. They have 16 more games to play. Even if the Indians, 18 games to the rear, win all of their remaining 21 games, they cannot overhaul the Yanks if the latter chalk up another victory.

The Giants are finding the going rough. Today the Reds have regained second place. The Giants top them by four games and are four and a half games ahead of the Pirates. The Giants, however, can play a little better than .500 while the Reds and Pirates must play nearly 1,000 per cent to overtake them.

If the Giants win seven of their remaining 13 contests, the Reds must win 12 of their remaining games to pass them while in this event the Pirates can win the pennant with 15 victories of their 16 remaining games.

Sunland Wins Fifth Straight Game Sunday

Sunland won its fifth straight victory yesterday when Hatch hurled his team mates home on the long end of a 15-to-7 score against the Pasadena M. W. A The score:

Pasadena	7	9	4

Sermon Excerpts And News Notes From Local Churches

LIBERTY LINKED WITH AUTHORITY

Rev. Philip K. Kemp Tells Episcopal Congregation About Constitution

"Liberty under authority is the basic idea of government," asserted Rev. Philip K. Kemp yesterday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

"In every true conception of politics," he commented, "there are also certain fundamental ideals which are also bound up in religious thought. One of these is liberty under authority.

"As St. Paul wrote centuries ago where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. Where we find the true ideal of liberty as given us in the teaching of Christ there is liberty whether we think in terms of religion or politics.

Thought of Constitution

"The great thought back of the Constitution of our nation as conceived by our Fathers was that of liberty under authority. Man has accomplished it in the reverse order. From earliest times men have conceived social life in terms of authority. In our own day we have come to the ideal of the authority of a responsible government. The authority any official of the government enjoys is given him by the people.

"The great lesson for us today is respect for the authority we have created. Along with the ideal of representative government has come recently a growing disregard for authority. The willful violation of the law is one of the tragic sights of the present time.

Guaranty Is Given

The principle of liberty is deeply woven into the Constitution. The First amendment guarantees liberty of conscience, assembly and speech. That freedom is enjoyed under law or authority. We cannot divorce the two thoughts and it would be tragic if we did. This is at once an ideal of religious life. We enjoy moral and spiritual freedom under the authority of the church. The creeds, sacraments, moral laws are not obstructions but helps. The same is true of our system of government. Back of each of these ideals stands the need of real education that we may fully enjoy the liberty granted us as a free people.

"Let us then enter the spirit of this week by a true conception of liberty as that privilege we enjoy not as that which has no bounds and limits but that which has back of it an authority which we all recognize and respect."

Greatness, Perils of Nation Contrasted

"Our Nation, Its Greatness and Its Perils" was the subject discussed yesterday morning at the Broadway Methodist Church.

"Ours is truly the greatest country in all the world," said Rev. L. J. Millikan. "We are great in resources, great in mountains, great in plains, great in forests, great in mines, great in rivers, great in lakes and gulfs and in mighty oceans, great in the development of science and philosophy, great in our contribution to international laws, and wonderfully great in the production of strong and eminently great characters. It is a glorious hope to know we are endeavoring to reach the climax to which God has called us.

"Claim has been made by those opposed to a progressive church program that we are overchurched. Such is far from the case. By a careful survey we are informed that our present church capacity will accommodate less than fifty percent of the people.

"We see a great need for education and for men of more learning but no one can claim to be educated until he has a knowledge of the Bible and its teachings. When you lower a man's respect for the Bible, you lower his respect for morality, for civilization and even for himself."

Rev. C. A. Cole Reports on Churches' Conclave

Rev. C. A. Cole made his official reporrt upon the recent convention of the Churches of Christ in America at Colorado Springs, yesterday at the morning service of the Central Christian Church.

Mrs. C. C. Stoler of 1249 Justin street and the vested choir sang "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" by Munder as the morning anthem. Mrs. Floyd Mercer of 319 North Jackson street sang a soprano solo.

The evening service was enriched by a selection by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. F. W. Pigg of 405 North Maryland avenue, Dr. R. C. Logan of 502 Salem street and VeVoyne Davidson of 206 South Orange street.

LIVINGSTON'S TOPICS

Rev. J. C. Livingston occupied the pulpit yesterday at both services of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. "Landmarks in the Survey of the Field of Social and Religious Liberty" was the morning topic. The evening subject was "The Darkness Behind the Stars."

MARBELITE DRAINBOARDS. GLEN. 3284-J.—Adv.9-17-18-19.

Dr. H. C. Funk Is Elected President of Lutheran Synod

DR. H. C. FUNK, pastor of the First Lutheran church, has returned from the convention of the Lutheran synod of California conference, comprising the territory of Southern California and Arizona.

In addition, he is a member of the executive board of the synod and chairman of the home mission committee of the conference.

Dr. Funk reports that the Glendale congregation is making splendid progress in the development of their church on Kenwood street, near Colorado.

The foundation for the church and parsonage will soon be completed. Work on the church annex is being pushed in order that the opening service may be held on Sunday, September 30.

NEED OF CHURCH TOLD BY PASTOR

Adoption of New Truths and Definite Creeds Are Called Essentials

"What kind of a church do the thinking and good people of today want?" inquired Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday morning at the Congregational Church.

"In determining our ideal church we would be foolish to ignore the church of the past. We have a rich inheritance of which we should avail ourselves. We should not ignore the present for that is the particular task that God has given us. We should not be blinded to present conditions and opportunities. While the church is working today, it should not forget that it is laying foundations for tomorrow.

"We should not like a church which believes in nothing. A church to be anything must have a creed written or understood, or else some kind of a platform upon which it can stand. But the creed of the ideal church will not fetter it; it will be the expression of an active, living faith that will be a dynamic in the lives of the people. The creed should not be metaphysical as the historic creeds of christendom but it should be as ethical and spiritual as the program of Jesus.

Must Be Liberal

"We believe in a church that is liberal but not radical. We want the church to be fearless in its learning of new truth and in its faith that there is a new truth to learn and apply. God's revelation is not yet completed.

"Most people want a church that is tolerant of everything that is not gross immorality or irreligion. Although differing with people we must learn to be brothers and be able to sit beside them and worship our God.

"We want a church which is evangelistic in its interest and work. This means not rescue work alone, important as that is, but it means emphasis on worship, Christian education and missionary motives.

Danger of Paganism

"Most good people believe in the church. Without the church religion would soon sink into paganism. Without religion morality would soon be transformed into immorality. Without the church, religion and morality, our civilization would soon go down to defeat.

"The church is needed as much today as it was ever needed in the history of the world. It is needed to bring people to a realizing sense of the living presence of God, to bring people the saving power of Christ, to acquaint people with the eternal truths contained in the Bible and to give a religious interpretation to great truths revealed to us by modern scholarship."

Observance of Law Is Rev. Livingston's Topic

Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, addressed the congregation at the morning service on "Observance of the Law," the sermon being in keeping with Constitution week. He touched especially on the importance of the law, and its support, as forming the bulwark of the nation, and the far-reaching effects of disobedience of the statutes.

"Are we better than our fathers?" asked the speaker, "and are we leaving greater landmarks than did our ancestry?" He spoke on the original Constitution, the first amendment, religious liberty and the freedom of the public print.

A quartet arrangement of "All Alone" was rendered by Mrs. R. D. Jones, Mrs. W. Grimes and Messrs. John W. Cotton and R. D. Jones.

At the evening service the pastor took for his theme "The Darkness That is Back of the Stars." Mrs. R. D. Jones sang a soprano solo, "In the Garden."

BRINK PREACHES

The Central Aevnue Methodist church heard two sermons yesterday by its pastor, Dr. V. Hunter Brink. "Foundation Principles" was the subject of the morning. In the evening he discussed "David Restored."

100 PCT. LOYALTY URGED BY PASTOR

Rev. E. E. Ford in Forceful Sermon on Constitution at Baptist Church

"Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks Which Your Fathers Have Set Up."

This proverb was the text of the sermon yesterday morning at the First Baptist church.

In observance with Constitution week, Rev. E. E. Ford called attention to the fact that it was largely through Baptist influence that the first amendment was added to the Constitution. This reads: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Excerpts From Sermon

"From the time of their origin," he commented, "Baptists have ever insisted on the right and rightfulness of religious liberty.

"The forty-eight states of the Union are bound together by the Constitution. National and state laws must conform and never transgress. Foreigners seeking citizenship must take solemn oath to reverence and obey. It is second only to the Bible in its sacred obligation. One who repudiates it is an anarchist. And each amendment is a vital part of the whole; and anyone who willfully violates the Eighteenth amendment is a traitor to his country, and dishonors the flag that floats over him.

"We have no room in America for any flag but the Stars and Stripes, and we have no room in America for any man man who does not respect our flag and hold sacred the Constitution upon which it rests.

No Red Flag Here

"Let the bearer of the red flag wave it in Russia, if he wants to, but never be allowed to flaunt it in America.

"Besides the Landmarks of Religious Liberty; the Stakes and Stones of property division; the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States, God, the greatest of all lawgivers, has set some landmarks on the shores of time that He has never pulled up, and which are more binding than any that have ever been penned by man.

"'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.' There is very grave danger of removing this landmark of God and making His holy day a holiday.

"'What God hath bound together let not man put asunder.' God put that landmark at the corner of the home; but the lust of the flesh of man has removed it.

"God's Constitution has never been repealed. Let us order our lives by its teaching, and besides being 100 per cent Americans, be also, 100 per cent citizens of the Kingdom of God."

True Messiah Theme of Kringle's Sermon

"The True Messiah" was discussed yesterday morning at the services of the Concordia Lutheran Church.

"To this day," commented Rev. Henry O. Kringle, "there are people who either do not believe in Christ as the promised Messiah or doubt Jesus is He that should come. The first class, who openly reject Christ, are the infidels. The unbelievers discredit the clearest Bible statements concerning Christ. The second class, those who doubt whether Jesus is the promised Messiah, are such who are not made divinely certain in the faith. They hear the Gospel like the disciples of John the Baptist. But they are as a reed shaken in the wind. When any supposed arguments and proofs against the Gospel are placed before them, their faith is shocked and they begin to doubt.

"Scripture assures us that Christ is truly the Messiah, first, because His person exactly answers to the description of the promised Messiah; secondly, because His deeds exactly correspond to the deeds which the Messiah was to perform; thirdly, He was preceded by the forerunner who was to go before the Messiah."

Mob Law Digs Grave for Republic, Claim

"Enemies of the Republic" was the subject of the sermon yesterday at the First Methodist church.

"Among these," stated Rev. Henry I. Rasmus, "is the spirit of the teaching which seeks to destroy private ownership. The right to possess is as old as the relationship between God and man. It was held sacred by the ancients. It was considered an inviolate privilege of the Hebrews.

"There is amongst us a false interpretation of democracy. That word does not grant the license of the mob. This republic is not governed by the people en masse, but by the voice of the majority in delegated bodies. This academic term has come to be interpreted that every man can be a law unto himself. This idea in full swing would but dig the grave of the republic and the fairest flower of national life would perish."

Navy Needs New Ideas
Bound With Red Tape
Observe the Constitution
How an Education Works

By Gil A. Cowan

SOME day—perhaps not so long in coming—we are going to sweep away the naval aristocracy of the United States and bring the benighted graduates of Annapolis back to their human selves.

Secrecy was to have shrouded the naval inquiry into the tragic wreck off the Santa Barbara shore in which seven destroyers were lost and four more damaged. The aristocrats of the "American" navy excluded the newspaper men.

Fortunately, Secretary Denby is a civilian—and supreme in authority. He decided that the public had better know the FACTS. And it is well they do, for it is time that a new regime be installed at Annapolis.

Indeed, if the writer had his way an entirely new school without the traditions and ancient ethics of our naval academy would be established for the benefit of a twentieth century civilization.

The Santa Barbara Press speaks along similar lines when it says in its issue of September 11:

"Apparently there is a loose cog in the United States navy's machinery. The seven destroyers which ran ashore in the fog at Honda struck Saturday night. Those on board escaped with scanty clothing and only such equipment as they could carry with them which was negligible.

"Most of the survivors were shipped promptly to San Diego where they could be cared for and re-outfitted.

"A detail of sixteen men and two officers was left at the scene of the wreck to watch for bodies and to prevent looting of the battered ships. Nearly three days have elapsed since the disaster and yet those men are still camped like refugees on the wind swept bluff without shelter and with inadequate supplies.

"A car load of supplies has been sent to these sailors by the Santa Barbara Red Cross to furnish navy men on duty with the things that they should have had from the navy department.

"Although these sailors are camped along the main line of the railroad, within a few miles of markets where can be obtained everything they require, they are still, to all intents and purposes in the condition of castaways.

"Kindly disposed women and sightseers have brought the sailors cakes and cookies and doughnuts. Leftovers from the lunches of the tourists who have come by hundreds to see warships that cost from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 lying in surf as heaps of junk, have gladdened the hearts of men engaged in doing the nation's work.

"It surely takes a long time for Uncle Sam to unwind the red tape in which his navy department is bound."

This is Constitution week. It behooves everyone to observe the fundamental law of the land not only this week, but the whole year round.

It is pleasing to note the sermons preached on the subject, the interest taken by the club women and others, yet the writer reflects on the reason and purpose of this special week.

The United States' Constitution stands supreme. It is the most workable form of government ever placed on paper. We know of none better.

Yet there are those who would take the government into their own hands. And there are others who would defy the Constitution because in accomplishing the greatest good it interferes with the "personal liberty" of a certain minority.

Constitution week, as we recollect, had its inception among those who are opposed to influences which tend to undermine government. It was designed as an awakening of the public to the menace, such as grips Oklahoma at this hour.

Constitution week also drew support from those who are opposed to the bootlegger and moonshiner, for the eighteenth amendment has caused a certain disregard for all law.

And this disregard for law has been felt by attorneys, patriotic societies and others who are endeavoring to regain the highest esteem for the Constitution of the United States.

The San Bernardino Sun has a clever comment on college education which we take the privilege of reprinting:

"Comes the day when young men and women must decide finally whether they will spend four years or more in college.

"A recent issue of the national journal of a great college fraternity especially noted for its scholarship, carried, as customary, obituaries of members who had died. Many had annexed wealth and fame.

"Also it carried an item that a curious customer found more than 200 fraternity pins in a Broadway pawnshop where they had been hocked by college men who had failed.

"The fact is, a college can't make brains, it merely can train them. It usually makes a smart man smarter; a fool a bigger fool."

BAPTIST SERMONS

"Helping God" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. E. E. Ford last night at the First Baptist church. In the morning he discussed "Ancient Landmarks."

GLENN MOORE TO STUDY THEOLOGY

Assistant Pastor of Community Church Preaches Farewell Sermon

Glenn Moore, for the past year assistant pastor of the Tujunga Community church, delivered his farewell sermon to a large congregation of friends he has made during his stay in Tujunga. The seating capacity of the little church was taxed to the limit, demonstrating the need of additional room which the church is planning to build.

Mr. Moore left to take a three year course in theology. He has been assisting Rev. J. U. Stotts for the past year while completing his studies at Occidental college. He has also been a leading spirit in the work of the Christian Endeavor society, which has been very active and has held many enjoyable social gatherings, creating lively interest among the younger people and swelling the membership roll.

The members of the society recently gathered at the home of Miss Adelaide Gibson, on Haines Canyon road and expressed the esteem they have for Mr. Moore by presenting him on that occasion with a fine leather wallet.

The garden was specially lighted for the occasion by Japanese lanterns.

Satan's Power Provides Subject for Sermon

Satan was discussed last night at the Gospel tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

"Satan is not omnipresent," asserted Rev. C. H. Chrisman. "That is, he cannot be everywhere at once. He could not be in Los Angeles and New York at once.

"In fact, he possesses none of the attributes of God. He is not omnipotent. That is, he is not all-powerful. He is, with the exception of God, the most powerful personality in the universe, but he is not all-powerful. His power is limited by divine decree. He can operate only to the limits of the permissive will of God.

"The Scripture, "Where Satan's seat is" would indicate that Satan has strategic locations on the earth. He may have several. They would be the cities of wealth, power and worldly pomp. From these centers he directs his myriads of demon emissaries and they carry out his diabolical plans to devastate the race and wreck and ruin the souls of men and women. None are safe but those who hide themselves in the Rock of Ages."

BURGLARS RANSACK FOUR HOMES IN ONE BLOCK HERE

CHURCHES, CLUBS, ALL PAY HONOR TO CONSTITUTION

Week Set Aside for Respect Due Fundamental Law Of United States

Glendale churches and other organizations have been most hearty in their response to the suggestion of Miss Ida D. Myers, curator of the American Citizenship and Legislation section of The Tuesday Afternoon club, for observing "Constitution Week", September 16 to 22.

In the majority of the churches yesterday recognition was given the nation-wide celebration. This afternoon the Women's Auxiliary of the local American Legion post observed the anniversary at the meeting in the legion hall on East Broadway. Other organizations are planning similar observances throughout the week.

An added message from Miss Myers to Glendalians states, "To uphold the constitution in his daily life and activities is the duty of each and every good citizen.

Public Good Above All

"This means to uphold our American form of government because the constitution is the government. If our laws are unsatisfactory, the constitution presents the only way in which they should be changed. Personal interest must be merged into the public good.

"'Evolution, not Revolution' is the American process. A self-governing republic requires the intelligent and active participation of the entire body of the citizens. The basic fault of a democracy is, 'What is everybody's business is nobody's business'.

"Ours is not a democracy; it is a self-governing republic. It is weakened in so far as its citizens permit the looseness of assuming that every one in general may be left to perform the duties of every one in particular. No other nation offers a stronger appeal for individual activity and service."

Gophers Gather Next Saturday for Picnic

The Minnesotans are among the most loyal to the memory of the old home state and their picnic reunions are jolly affairs. The next will be held at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, all day Saturday, September 22. There will be county registers and headquarters, silk souvenir badges, coffee and a popular program of songs and addresses. They will take basket dinners and enjoy a long happy day.

Albert Cookman Will Teach Class of Nurses

Professor Alfred Cookman of this city has been invited to conduct courses in bacteriology for the nurses of the Angelus and Methodist hospitals in the laboratories of the biology department in the Los Angeles Evening High school.

EAST ON BUSINESS

J. M. Hunter of 320 Hawthorne street has left Glendale for Pesotum, Ill., where he will spend three weeks on business and pleasure.

Former Glendale Professor Originates New Gladiolus Of Rare Exquisite Beauty

LA VERNE, CALIFORNIA, lays claim to the beautiful "Los Angeles" gladiolus, for its originator, C. E. Houdyshel, made the experiments and discovery on his experimental ranch at La Verne, but Glendale also shares in the honor, for Mr. Houdyshel was for four years a teacher in the Glendale union high school and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Houdyshel, reside at 308 North Orange street.

Mr. Houdyshel's ranch and nursery at La Verne is widely known, for it is there he spends every week-end and vacation, and, while there, has developed the new gladiolus and other interesting flowers and fruit trees.

Has Corner On Market

It was in his experimental floral work that he developed the "Los Angeles" gladiolus, and it is grown exclusively by him, and cannot be obtained elsewhere. Up to the present time he has not sold a single bulb. He plans, however, to begin this fall selling to individual growers, but not to floriculturists. He states that he will have a stock this fall of more than 100,000 bulbs.

The "Los Angeles" is a salmon pink flower with inner petals having a marking of deep red, and with a crepe-like effect on the edges of the petals. There are from four to six open blossoms on the stem of the cut flowers, and others open later, as the flowers keep their fresh appearance for a number of days.

Like Game of Chance

To show how uncertain are the chances of a rich find in floriculture, Mr. Houdyshel states that "Los Angeles" was No. 185, that he had propagated 185 varieties of flowers before he discovered it, and that he has propagated hundreds since.

He is now experimenting with a deep red amaranth colored gladiolus and with a freak of the Los Angeles variety with serrated edges. Another valuable find, a black gladiolus, died.

An account of the Houdyshel place at La Verne says: "Not only has Mr. Houdyshel a young, thrifty orange grove, but a wonderful variety of fruit trees, such as avocados, cherimoya, figs, peaches, nectarines, apples, Japanese persimmons, lemon guavas, etc. Most of these he has grown from the seed and many are still in the experimental stage, while others are loaded with choice fruit.

Working for U. S.

"Mr. Houdyshel is growing for experimental purposes a number of selected trees for the agricultural department at Washington.

"Among these are nectarines from India, plums from Africa, cherries and apples from China and a Chinese peach. He has a Japanese persimmon of unusual keeping qualities, which, while ripening in December, will keep until April.

"He has about thirty avocado trees. These are grown from seed from a choice tree. One tree is nine years old and has had a remarkable growth, yet has never borne but few fruit. But a few feet away is another tree, five or six years old, that is loaded with fruit.

Explains Barren Trees

"He explains why some fine-appearing avocado trees bear no fruit. He says that a Claremont grower has now discovered that the avocado blossoms opened and closed and then opened and closed a second time, so that, on many trees, the blossoms would not be open when the pollen was available; and then, if there were

Col. William Jennings Bryan on Saturday night addressed a somewhat slim audience in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club on "Science Versus Evolution," speaking under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist church. Col. Bryan was introduced by Rev. Henry I. Rasmus, pastor of the church.

Declaring that the last four amendments to the federal constitution were made effective on the eve of the greatest reforms this country has ever seen, and characterizing prohibition as the greatest moral reform the world has ever known, Col. Bryan worked up easily and gradually through the political avenue to the battle that is now on between the religious people of the country and the proponents of the theory of evolution, and he ripped the latter to shreds for over two hours in a talk that bristled with epigrams, metaphors and bitter denunciation, declaring that the evolutionists were content to look down to the ape as progenitor of the human race, while he and other religious people preferred to look up to God as its founder.

457 IN ATWATER SCHOOL COTTAGES THIS SEMESTER

Accommodations Outgrown By Five Times, Evening News Writer Learns

By ELEANOR R. BLACKBURN
Of The Evening News Staff

In the shadow of the beautiful new school building now nearing completion on Atwater avenue, in a tiny office in one of the three bungalows in which the pupils have been housed the past year, Miss Rosalind M. Gates, the principal, was found struggling the first week of school with the problem of how to take care of 457 pupils in quarters originally prepared for 90.

At the opening of school in September last year, accommodations were prepared for a possible 90. On the first day of school 190 presented themselves for enrollment. Another bungalow was erected and more teachers were sent out. In May the enrollment was over 300. The first week this year shows 457 enrolled with more to come.

In the kindergarten alone, there are sixty pupils. It requires two teachers and two sessions forenoon and afternoon, to care for this department.

Three Rooms Ready

The new school house of concrete construction, Italian in type of architecture, is rapidly nearing completion. Three rooms will be ready for occupancy this week. It provides eleven class rooms, a principal's office and a teachers' room, and has all the latest features in school building.

Two of the bungalows now in use will be retained, one for sloyd and another for domestic science.

Although handicapped by the crowded condition, the school activities are already well organized. Basketball teams for both boys and girls are scheduled activities.

Miss Gates reported that the plan of providing milk daily for the pupils will be followed again this year. An order has already been given for 200 half pints to be distributed each day, beginning next Tuesday.

P.-T. A Well Organized

Atwater has a strong Parent-Teachers association, of which Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 3802 Revere street is the president. Their success in the May Day bazaar and festival which netted them $300 encourages them to attempt even better things this year.

Their first meeting will be the second Monday in October. Miss Polly, a supervisor of music in the Los Angeles schools will present the program, illustrating her talk on "Music in the Schools" with a class of pupils.

Departmental plan of work will be followed with the following fourteen teachers, and two more to be added as soon as the new building is complete, in charge of the work. Miss Rosalind M. Gates, principal, Miss Loie Hunt, Mrs. Myrtle Gault, Miss Kathryn Fitzsimons, Miss Gertrude Bond, Miss Florence Miller, Miss Audrey B. Clinton, Miss Winnie Sinclair, Miss Esther M. Eby, Mrs. B. Kovacevich, Miss Grace M. Haskell, Mrs. Berthelda Sanders, Miss Alice McLean and Mr. Overholt.

Teachers Get Ready for Opening School

The staff of twenty-one teachers, including supervisors and special teachers of Wilson Avenue Intermediate school, met in session Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, with the principal, Miss Carrie Noble, presiding.

Plans were made for the opening of the schools this, Monday, morning, and registration of pupils. Fully 700 pupils are expected and the over-crowded condition will require careful supervision of the hallways and other parts of the building where the conditions are inadequate to the increasing numbers in attendance.

The teachers at the Glendale Avenue school met Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Principal Norman Whytock presiding. The new addition to the building is completed and class rooms ready for occupancy, with the exception of the auditorium which will be finished in ten days.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—Approximately 60,000 young shade trees, propagated at the Davis State Tree Nursery, will be offered for sale by the state board of forestry late this week, according to announcement made today by State Forester N. B. Pratt.

In the past the state grown trees have been distributed free of charge to the various county governments, civic orianizations and public institutions, for planting along the highways, but a nominal charge will be made this year to assist the forestry board in securing additional funds, Pratt said.

The trees offered by the state nursery include European sycamore, black walnut, Black locust honey locust, Lombardy poplar, Monterey cypress, Arizona cypress and catalpa.

Forest Fires Due to Campers, Says Report

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Official information has been released by Forest Supervisor R. H. Charlton of the Angeles national forest reserve, which reveals that over 70 per cent of the 610 forest fires that occurred up to August 20 of this year were "man caused."

These fires burned over 72,000 acres of government land and 34,000 acres of private land within and adjacent to federal forest reserves in California.

Out of a total of 124 fires in the Angeles, Santa Barbara and Cleveland reserves in southern California, all but six were caused by careless smokers, campers and sportsmen. Seventy-four persons were convicted for the starting of these fires, paying fines ranging from $50 to $500.

LOSE VALUABLE VALISE

While en route to the mountains for a week-end trip late Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bangs of 728 East Palmer avenue had the misfortune to lose a $40 leather grip from the running board of their automobile not far from their home. It contained wearing apparel.

SPARE TIRE STOLEN

CHIEF J. D. FRASER ISSUES WARNING ABOUT VALUABLES

Professional Thieves Jimmy Windows, Use Gloves, in Robberies

GLENDALE was raided yesterday afternoon by professional burglars who entered four homes in one block while residents were absent. Residences molested were as follows:

R. E. Reed, 1520 Orange Grove avenue.

Bernard Anawalt, 1515 Orange Grove avenue.

H. G. Moore, 1504 East Harvard street, and,

A house at 129 Carr street, whose occupants are away on a week-end trip.

Break Rear Windows

In each case entrance was gained by jimmying a rear window. Police officers are aghast at the audacity of the deeds, owing to the fact that the burglars operated in broad daylight. They are believed to have worn gloves to have precluded the possibility of finger prints left behind.

Although each of the homes entered was thoroughly ransacked, a list of the articles stolen has not been compiled as yet by those victimized. Among other things, Mrs. Reed reports the theft of a ring and about two dollars in coins.

Chief Issues Warning

Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, has issued instructions that no pains be spared to conduct the fullest investigation into these burglaries with the view of preventing a repetition of them during the next week-end. He calls attention to the fact that entrance into most local houses is a fairly easy matter for professional burglars and that residents, therefore, should take especial pains upon leaving them upon all day trips not only to make sure that they are locked as securely as possible, but little of value is left behind. He is a strong believer in the use of safety deposit boxes for the protection of valuables.

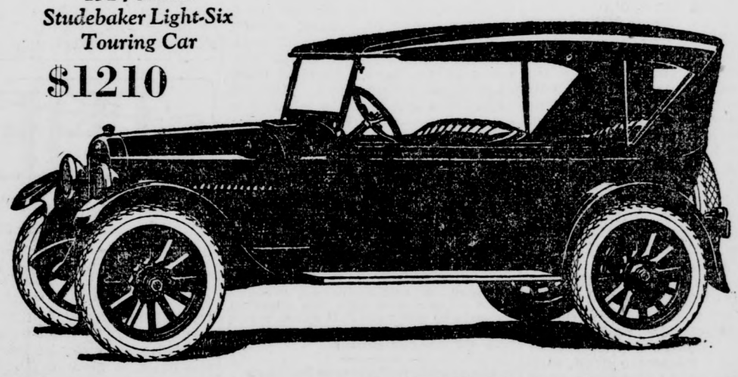
INTEGRITY Studebaker SERVICE

1924 Model
Studebaker Light-Six
Touring Car
$1210



The Price of This Car Is Misleading

Some buyers take it for granted that cars which sell at about the same prices are equal in value. This is distinctly not the case. To buy on this basis would be an injustice to yourself.

You can pay several hundred dollars more than the Light-Six price and get a car that represents no greater, if as great, intrinsic value as the Studebaker Light-Six.

Or you can pay about the same price as the Light-Six, or less, and get a car that is high-priced when compared with the Light-Six because it does not represent as much for the money invested.

And in the Light-Six you enjoy all the advantages of smooth, flexible, dependable, six-cylinder performance.

You get a beautiful, substantial, well-built, roomy and comfortable car.

The practical absence of vibration in the Light-Six is a notable achievement. It is due largely to the fact that the Light-Six crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars within hundreds of dollars of the Light-Six price.

Stop in and see the 1924 Model Light-Six.

Test it for yourself—drive it and make your comparisons. Driving is believing.

After seventy-one years of service the name Studebaker enjoys confidence and respect more than ever.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

Food Poisonings and Infections

Foods may be poisoned or infected, and so made unfit for food, from many sources. Fruits and vegetables—especially those which grow near or in the ground, such as lettuce, radishes, celery, strawberries and others—may be contaminated with the fertilizer of human excreta, and these may contain germs of disease such as typhoid or dysentery or the eggs of intestinal worms.

Or foods may be contaminated by those who handle the food if the handlers are diseased. Then there are the ever-present dust and flies and other insects. Oftentimes perfectly good fruit and vegetables have been given the credit for causing intestinal disturbances when, in reality, those disturbances were due to contamination rather than to the food itself.

You can see from this how very important it is that foods which are eaten raw, should be very thoroughly washed before being eaten.

Thorough cooking will destroy germs. It will also destroy worm eggs and worm embryos, but we don't want them dead or alive.

Food handlers who are diseased or who are carriers are a grave menace.

A "carrier" is a person who has had an infectious disease, has recovered from it, but still continues to carry the germs. You have all heard of Typhoid Mary. She was an unclean cook, and, while apparently healthy herself, she was the source of several severe epidemics of typhoid and many deaths because she continued to excrete virulent typhoid germs to which she herself had become immune. The authorities finally had to put her in prison, for, while she knew she was the carrier of death, she was ignorant or indifferent, and persisted in taking positions as a cook.

At Hanford, Cal., in 1914, ninety-three persons came down with typhoid fever about the same time. It was found that at a church supper they had eaten of a dish of baked macaroni and cheese which had been prepared by a woman who proved to be a typhoid carrier. The macaroni was cooked, then handled by her, placed in a baking dish and browned—but the dish was not in the oven long enough to recook the center mass of macaroni, and by the time it was served the germs had multiplied sufficiently to infect those ninety-three persons with typhoid.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Readers of this column who address inquiries to Dr. Peters must not expect replies unless they are willing to comply with the simple rules of the department. Stamped envelopes enclosed with inquiries for replies must be self-addressed.

It is impossible for Dr. Peters to take time to address several hundred envelopes each day. Furthermore, it is often impossible to make sure of the correct spelling of your names; a great many replies have recently been returned undelivered because of this.

Milk Pie—This recipe has been kindly contributed by Mrs. G. S., who writes: "I saw in your column, recently, a request from another reader for a Milk Pie recipe. Here is mine, which was taught me by my husband's mother, and which has been our favorite pie for years: Line a pie tin with crust, and spread the inside of this crust thickly with butter. Now sift together three-quarters of a teacup of sugar, a pinch of salt and three rounding tablespoons of flour, then put this dry mixture into the buttered crust; fill the crust with sweet milk and sprinkle generously with ground cinnamon. Bake from 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven, stirring occasionally to prevent crust forming on top. It is done when the filling will shake a little as the pie-pan is moved lightly back and forth. It should be eaten while still warm."

Shirred Eggs—Break each egg into a separate cup or ramekin. Stand these cups in a frying pan which contains enough boiling water to rise half way up sides of cups. Let the water simmer in the pan till the whites of the eggs are set. Serve at once in the cups.

One-Dish Dinner — Buy one pound of veal cutlet. Fry it in your frying pan, in a little bacon fat, till it is well browned on both sides (about 20 minutes in all, allowing ten minutes to each side) Now remove the meat from pan and cut it into inch-square pieces. Place these in a large sauce-pan and cover with boiling water; put the pot over mild heat, to simmer for one hour. Then add six large ripe tomatoes and enough small, pared, white potatoes to serve your family. Season to taste with salt and pepper and let continue to boil for 40 minutes. Serve at once on a large platter. The dish will be even more delicious if garnished with six or more crisply-fried bacon slices.

Boston Brown Bread—"Beat together one cup of Porto Rico molasses and two cups of cold water. Add to it two teaspoons of salt, four cups of graham flour, five teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of baking soda. Mix till smooth and turn into buttered coffee cans, filling these cans three-fourths full. Put on can-covers and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven.—Contributed by Mrs. F. W."

Tomorrow—Readers' Letters

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

They had a woman traffic officer in an eastern city and she was a good one, too. She wore white gloves, knickerbockers, a jaunty cap and directed traffic with all the nonchalance of an expert. The other day, however, she turned in her equipment and returned to skirts. A friend wanted to know what the trouble was.

"I don't care to discuss it," the aggrieved one declared.

"Aw, go ahead and tell me, dearie," said the other.

"Well, the chief refused a reasonable request and I quit."

WAITED TWO YEARS TO WED

Then Lou Tellegen Rejects Girl's Plea

The course of true love never runs smoothly and neither does the course of illicit love. Lorna Ambler, Australian stage star, may sue Lou Tellegen, recently divorced husband of Geraldine Farrar, for breach of promise. Miss Ambler was named as a co-respondent by Miss Farrar.

Miss Lorna Ambler

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Loving husbands and wives other than one's own may not be the strictly proper procedure, but it's a popular pastime nevertheless.

Sometimes it's a lot of fun while it lasts. Certainly there is some attraction. But the romances of those who love not wisely but too often are like the pitcher which went to the well.

Lorna Ambler, pretty Australian actress, has found her dream of romance in much the same condition as the pitcher after its last trip to the vicinity of the old oaken bucket.

For be it known Lorna, unmindful of the tie that did not bind Lou Tellegen—more than perfunctorily at most—to Geraldine Farrar, now threatens to sue the matinee idol for breach of promise.

Tellegen but recently was divorced by Farrar but nevertheless Miss Ambler contends that she waited two years to marry the former husband of the opera star.

According to Miss Ambler's tale of blasted romance she and Tellegen were slightly more than chummy and slightly more than Platonic while Tellegen still was—nominally at least—head of the Tellegen-Farrar menage.

She declares that it was understood that as soon as he was legally free Tellegen was to lead her to the altar—while an organ or a jazz band played Lohengrin or something else.

But the understanding turned out like the best laid plans of mice and men. Farrar obtained a divorce. Tellegen was free. Miss Ambler had been named as co-respondent. She was in England at the time.

She's back now. Bound and determined to get even after she found that Tellegen had grown colder than the climate of Wrangel Island.

Miss Ambler, despite Tellegen's repeated denials, insists that she's engaged to him.

Lou, who seems cured—temporarily at least of the marriage mania—even goes so far as to intimate that Miss Ambler should be sent back to the Australian bush country—.

But she's here in America seeking satisfaction and perhaps Tellegen might do worse than remember what they say about hell, fury, and a woman scorned.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"The Three Ages," Buster Keaton's first feature length comedy, now showing at the Glendale theatre, tells the story of love in cave-age days, in ancient Rome, and in modern times. The picture is a Joseph M. Schenck production, distributed through Metro.

More than 2000 people participate in the big scenes of this monumental comedy, one of the huge sets being a duplication of the Roman Colosseum. The cast includes Wallace Beery and Margaret Leahy, recently acclaimed the most beautiful girl in England, in a competition of 80,000 entrants.

"The Three Ages" is a burlesque on love, marriage and business. It marks the sixth or present age in the film comedy business, the other five ages being the chase, the comedy cop, the flivver, the pie-throw and the bathing girl ages, respectively—and respectfully.

An endless chain must have had a beginning somewhere.

THE GATEWAY

"To the Last Man," with Richard Dix, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery, Robert Edeson and Frank Campeau, directed by Victor Fleming, shows at the Gateway theatre today.

The story is based on the Pleasant Valley war that ravaged the Tonto basin of Arizona in the early '80s. In it two families and their sympathizers fight practically "to the last man," making the title particularly appropriate.

This is the first of the Zane Grey specials, played with perfect casts, and personally supervised by Mr. Grey.

"To the Last Man" will prove in the consensus of critical opinion to be the best Zane Grey story ever filmed. It is a phase of the true, the colorful, genuine West, of which no living writer has made a more careful study than Mr. Grey.

A careful selection of mirrors and positions for same will add a great deal of space to the small house.

BEAUTY CHATS

by Edna Kent Forbes

HONEY WITH ALMONDS

Every woman who can afford it should have a substitute, or, rather, an alternative, for cold cream. I would suggest the honey-almond lotion, which is not very hard to make and delicious to use. There are so many times when the skin needs something to soften it, to save it from chapping, to clear it, yet when a cold cream would be greasy and inconvenient. And everyone needs a hand lotion. Cold cream is impossible for this. The lotion given today is bleaching (almonds and honey and glycerine all act as bleaches); it dries quickly into the skin, leaving it soft and smooth looking. It acts as a base for powder, too, which greasy cold creams will not do.

Take one-third of a pint of quince seed and steep for twelve hours in a pint of water. Start with cold water and keep your saucepan covered. Strain the liquid off through a fine sieve or a cloth. Meantime, take one ounce of almonds already shelled and skinned and, while they are wet, pound them in a mortar, or any clean small pan, bruise and mash them and pour and squeeze out as much milk as you can get. Add to the quince water one ounce of glycerine, thirty grains of boric acid powder, four drops of oil of bitter almonds and one-half ounce of pure honey. Mix and bottle If you can buy almond milk already made up use half an ounce of this instead.

Almonds are most useful in making up beauty formulas. Pure oil of almonds is excellent to rub on the face at night, after a thorough washing with hot water and soap. It can be massaged into the skin thoroughly and wiped off, and should be followed by a cold rinse. It nourishes, cleanses, whitens and makes the skin firm and fine looking. It is too expensive to use as a cleansing agent before washing. Cleansing cream goes farther and costs less. Almond milk is good too, used by itself after washing.

Anxious B.: The light hair, such as you describe, always becomes darker after adult age. You are fortunate that it is taking on a reddish tint, as with most people such hair becomes a pale shade of brown, without much vitality to it. Keep your scalp invigorated by massaging every day and you probably will have a very fine head of hair, both for color and quantity.

Midgie: There is nothing sensible to be done to make the lips less full than they naturally are. As people grow older the lips flatten, so full ones in youth have an advantage in this respect.

This makes a delicious lotion.

Mickey: An excellent thing for shampooing is castile soap dissolved so it becomes a soap jelly.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl eighteen years old and am considered good-looking by my friends. I am quite popular at dances and when with a crowd of boys and girls I am as popular with the boys as with the girls, but I don't understand why they do not ask me for a date like they do the other girls. I am strict and allow no liberties. Could that be the reason?

I met a boy from a nearby town and I like him very much, but I have no way of seeing him again as he does not know my address. Would it be proper for my girl friend to have her boy friend who is a friend of his bring him over?

How can a girl tell that she really loves a boy? IRISH.

I cannot say why boys do not ask you to go to places with them. I hardly believe it is because you are too strict. Probably one of these days you will have invitations from some one just as the other girls have.

It would be all right to invite your girl friend, her boy friend and his friend from out of town to come to your house some evening.

It is difficult to explain love because people feel it in so many different ways. If a girl is deeply in love with some one she scarcely knows, she may be sure she is worshiping a creature of her imagination instead of the reality. But if a girl is well acquainted with a man and she loves him so much she feels she cannot live without him—so much that she tries in every way to make him happy and would not intentionally hurt his feelings, then she may be reasonably sure that her love is real.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman in my teens. I married a man in his thirties. I am dissatisfied because I do want to live in town and it is closer to his work. I love him more than any one can tell, but he wants to stay in the country because he is close to his dad's people. His dad and his people are mean to me and when I go around them they always have something to say about me and so now I don't go around any of them.

Please tell me what to do. Should I leave him or stay with him? BLUE EYED X.

Since you love your husband so dearly, I would not advise you to leave him. Perhaps you have talked too much about going to town, and if you forget about the matter for a while, you will have greater influence with your husband later on when you bring up the matter again. Do not complain about his people, because he is apt to take their part. Stay away from them when you can do so tactfully, but if circumstance places you with them be a little lady and do not let their meanness touch you. When your husband sees that you are doing your best to be happy and that you are not resentful toward his people, he will be more apt to take your point of view and see the advantages of living in town.

After three or four months look about in town and find the home that would suit you. Then take your husband to see it and perhaps the very fact that it is near his work will influence him to leave the country and go to town to live.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Are people legally married who tell an untruth about their age?

ONE WHO WOULD KNOW.

Unless one or the other is a minor the legality of the marriage is not disputed.

D. M. C.—I cannot put you in touch with any soldier. If you appeal to the Red Cross they may be able to help you out.

ANOTHER PRODIGY

Dear Roy: To help fill the gap caused by some of your delinquent contributors, let me tell you that this "Birdie" girl, who operates the typewriter with only four fingers, has nothing on me. I can do it with two.—Hunten Peck.

TODAY—Traffic Towers for Chicago.

By KENNETH HARRIS
For International News Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The uniformed traffic officers' days on Michigan avenue here are numbered. Gone will be the shrill blasts from the tiny whistles and the dignified officer standing at the intersections, looming up in the distance as a statue, will be no more. A tower signal system will supplant the pompous "cops."

The system is to be put through a series of experiments, however, before the officers are removed, to insure effective operation, according to J. F. Foster, general superintendent of park commissioners. The system will extend over a stretch of nineteen blocks —from Lake street to Twenty-second street, on "Mich boul."

The signals used will be similar to those observed generally by railroads. When a green light flashes that will be a "go" signal and a red light "stop." An orange light will be an "intermediate" signal—an indication that a change of traffic is about to be made. The system's signals will be just the opposite of those now in use at New York City. On Fifth avenue there, for instance, an amber signal indicates that the Fifth avenue traffic is to "go," and when the green light flashes it means that the Fifth avenue traffic is to "stop" and the cross traffic is to have the right of way. The flashing of a red light is by way of announcing that a change in the "flow" of traffic will be made shortly afterward.

The various signals will be operated by an automatic system from three towers along the boulevard here.

Violators of traffic laws, however, still are quite likely to find themselves within the clutches of the law. A policeman will be stationed at all of the crossings for cases of emergency and to see that motorists do not attempt to "beat the signal." Each tower light can be controlled from the base by an officer, and this will enable emergency changes in handling the traffic, such as to allow passage of fire department equipment or other special vehicles. The timing of changes in the traffic will be determined by the amount of traffic then passing.

Who's Who in the Day's News

G. BASCOM SLEMP

The recent appointment by President Coolidge of former congressman C. Bascom Slemp og Virginia to be his secretary not only takes to the president's side one of the most influential Republicans of the south but apparently gives Coolidge an alliance with the forces of former Gov. Lowden of Illinois.

C.B. SLEMP

Mr. Slemp is wealthy. For many years he was the lone Republican congressman from any southern state. He was an important figure in national Republican conventions. His ability to rally southern delegates has made him famous. He has generally been considered the Republican patronage arbiter of Virginia.

Details of Mr. Slemp's history are given in the statement issued from the White House in connection with his appointment. This statement says in part:

Mr. Slemp is a native of Turkey Cove, Lee county, Virginia; born in 1870; he graduated from the Virginia Military institute at Lexington in 1891 and studied law at the University of Virginia; taught mathematics at the Virginia Military institute, 1900 and 1901, and practiced law at Bigstone Gap, Va., thereafter.

"He is president of the Slemp Coal Co. the Hamilton Realty Co., and other corporations. He has been chairman of the Republican state committee of Virginia since 1905. Mr. Slemp's father, Hon. Campbell Bascom Slemp, was a member of congress for several terms from the ninth Virginia district, and on his death in 1907, his son, who now becomes secretary to the president, was elected to fill the unexpired term.

"Thereafter he was elected regularly to the sixty-first, sixty-second, sixty-third, sixty-fourth, sixty-fifth, sixty-seventh congresses, retiring voluntarily on March 4, last to give attention to his personal affairs. His home is at Bigstone Gap.

"Owing to his long congressional service, he is one of the most widely acquainted men in public life. He was one of the intimate friends of the late President Harding, who offered him a place on the civil service commission, later the position of assistant secretary of commerce, and at still another time that of ambassador to Peru. All of these were declined. Mr. Slemp is a member of the Army and Navy club and the Washington Country club. He is a bachelor."

MISS OLIVE M. JONES

When Miss Olive M. Jones first proposed to New York civic and school officials the opening of a day school for the benefit of truants and incorrigibles they were a bit skeptic about the move. She soon convinced them of the need for it and the practicability of it.

MISS O.M. JONES

This is one of the many progressive ideas held by the woman educator who now heads the National Educational Association. She was elected at the association's last convention in Oakland, Calif. She startled delegates at the convention with her proposal that educators become more interested in writing movie scenarios. "Educators write the best books for study. Why can they not write the best scenarios —around which are built motion pictures which play a big part in influencing the lives of the public?" she asked.

Miss Jones has been principal of public school No. 120 in Manhattan borough. In addition to winning attention by her leadership there she has taken a prominent part in other school and social center activities.

From Evening News Files

Work was commenced this morning on Broadway moving the rails of the Glendale and Eagle Rock railway. A concrete bed will be built for the new track, which, when built, will be to the south of the right of way.

Last night the $50,000 home of G. G. Gillette at 4040 Fairmont drive, was destroyed by fire during the absence of the family at the beach.

The bricklayers are now at work on the second story of the Glendale fire house between Kenwood and Louise streets on Broadway.

W. B. Kirk returned Saturday from up-state districts, where he went to transact insurance business.

The new brick store building that is being erected on the corner of Broadway and Isabel street is nearing completion. The Glendale Hardware company will occupy this fine new building.

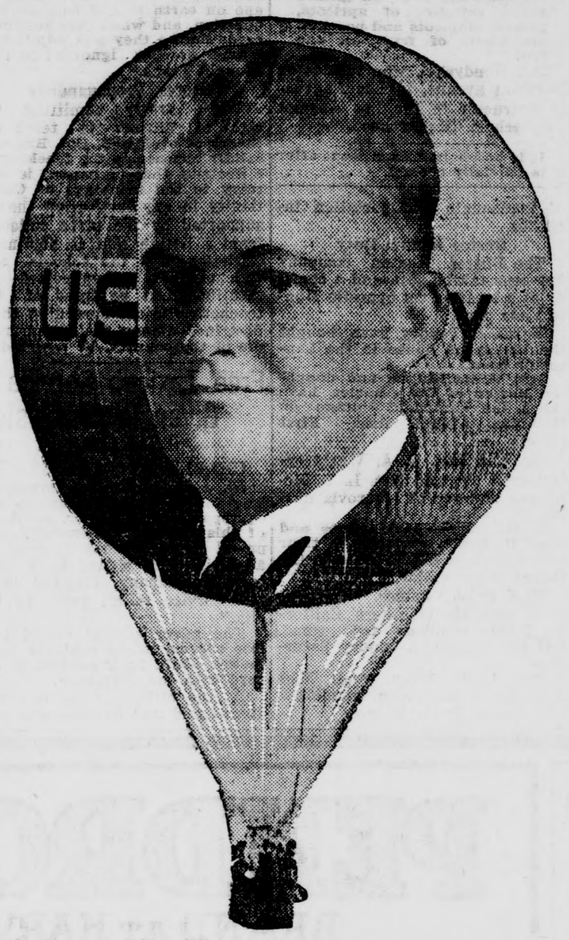
Navy Air Craft To Seek Honors In Big Race



The Gordon Bennett balloon race, the blue ribbon event of the balloon world, will be staged at Brussels, Belgium, on September 23. The United States' entries always have been strong in the international event. The U. S. navy F. R. S. S. balloon, entered in the event, is expected to test the mettle of the foreign balloons. Lieut. WHAT THE EYES TELL

What does our human eyes tell
From the people and their fate.
Which of the eyes has in them love
And which of them has in them hate?
Which of the eyes would bring to you
Heart's rest, joy and true delight
And which of the eyes have secrets
From where it shines sorry and fright?
Eyes, eyes, eyes, our dear, lovely eyes!
Through every eye a world looks out.
Every eye has millions of secrets
Of golden rays or grief and doubt.
Eyes of blue, eyes of gray and black,
In every eye we can find
All different secrets from our heart
And soul and our human mind

"No, I believe not," said Mrs. Johnson, "but I understand that she calls on my cook."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BIG LOLLYPOP

Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, hopped up the front step of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. Then Baby Bunty hopped down the front steps of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"What are you doing, Baby Bunty?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Oh, I'm just sort of—now—having fun by myself until Uncle Wiggily comes out," answered the little rabbit girl, as she hopped up and down again

"And when Uncle Wiggily comes out what are you going to do then?" asked Nurse Jane, as she wiped a dab of flour off her nose with her apron, for she had been making a cabbage pie.

"When Uncle Wiggily comes out I am going adventuring with him," said Baby Bunty, and soon the rabbit gentleman came out, twinkling his pink nose.

"Oh, so you are going adventuring with me, are you, Baby Bunty?" asked Uncle Wiggily kindly. "But suppose, Bunty, I don't find any adventures today?"

"Well, then, you can buy me a lollypop and that will be an adventure for me," laughed the little rabbit girl, and Uncle Wiggily laughed also, as did Nurse Jane.

"Come along, then!" invited the rabbit gentleman, and he and Baby hopped off down the street, looking here and there for adventures.

"But I don't seem to see any," spoke Uncle Wiggily.

"Neither do I, but there's a lovely lollypop store across the street," said Baby Bunty, pointing one ear at it. "See, it has peppermint lollypops, and orange lollypops and cinnamon lollypops, and everything. Come on, Uncle Wiggily."

So Baby Bunty led the rabbit gentleman into the lollypop store.

"One lollypop for a little rabbit girl," ordered Mr. Longears, and when Baby Bunty was trying to make up her mind which flavor she wanted she happened to see in the window the largest lollypop that ever was made. It was five times as large as any lollypop you ever saw—so large, in fact, that it needed three pounds of sugar to make it, and the stick was almost as long as Uncle Wiggily's red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch.

"Oh, what a fine large lollypop," cried Baby Bunty. "Buy me that, Uncle Wiggily."

"Oh, my, no! No! No! No!" howled the dog gentleman who kept the lollypop store. "Don't buy that big lollypop for such a little rabbit girl, Uncle Wiggily! Don't do it!"

"Why not?" asked Mr. Longears. "Don't you want to sell the big lollypop?"

"Oh, yes," barked the dog. "The big lollypop is for sale, but if you bought it for the little rabbit girl, and she tried to put it in her mouth all at once, she might get it in, but she could never get it out again, and there she would be—a big lollppop stuck in her mouth. Don't do it!"

"I shan't," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll buy Baby Bunty a little regular sized lollypop. But I'll buy the big one—"

"Not for yourself, I hope!" barked the dog, wagging his tail.

"No, I'll buy the big lollypop for my friend, the elephant," said the rabbit gentleman.

So Uncle Wiggily bought the big lollypop, carrying it over his shoulder as a soldier carries his gun. And Baby Bunty was given a little rose-flavored lollypop, which she kissed with her tongue every now and then as she and Uncle Wiggily hopped back toward the hollow stump bungalow.

But they had not gone very far before, all of a sudden, out from the bushes came the Skillery Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail.

"Oh, ho!" grunted the Alligator. "Give me that big lollypop, Uncle Wiggily, and, after I eat it, I'll nibble your ears, so I will!"

"Give me that big lollypop!"

"This lollypop is for the elephant," said Uncle Wiggily. "You could never get it in your mouth, Mr. Alligator!"

"Pooh! Yes, I can! You don't know me! I'll show you!" howled the Alligator. Most impolitely he snatched the big lollypop away from Uncle Wiggily. Then the Alligator opened wide his mouth and into it he crowded the lollypop. And then a funny look came over his face and he said:

"Oh, blub! Glub! Ah, gurgle! Urgle! Wurgle!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Baby Bunty. "Look, Uncle Wiggily, he's got the big lollypop in his mouth and now he can't get it out, he was so greedy! Now he can't nibble your ears! Let's run!"

So away they ran, leaving the Alligator with the big lollypop still thrust most impolitely into his mouth, and the bunny's ears weren't nibbled that day. And he bought the elephant another lollypop, so everything came out all right.

And, if the gold fish doesn't catch hold of the curtain string and get pulled up to the ceiling, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Dizzy Izzy.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

Yesterday you remember, Billy decided to jump over to where the stuffed exhibition goat was and see why he did not answer him.

To think was to do with Billy Whiskers, and over the rail he bounded, frightening the badgers nearly to death and knocking over the little stuffed birds in the grass as he climbed up the rock to where the goat stood looking down into the valley without once turning its head.

When Billy got close to the goat and saw it was only stuffed, he was so mortified at the mistake he had made and before all those spectators, too, that he baahed and then hooked the stuffed goat off the hill. It went rolling over and over into the valley below. Then he went for the wolf, which he gave a vicious butt, then stamped on it with his feet before he jumped over the rocks and dashed out of the building chased by the guards armed with long poles they had hurriedly grabbed, taking the first things they saw. But Billy's assault had been so unexpected and rapid that they had not had time to interfere or catch him before he was away down the avenue, baahing for Nannie.

No Nannie was to be seen, however; neither did she answer his repeated calls.

"Bless my soul!" said Billy. "Nannie must have run out of the building when she first saw that wolf. And she is such a little rattlehead that by now she must be completely lost, for she would never think to run straight ahead. And now I shall have a fine time finding her, I'm afraid." which proved to be the case, for though Billy baahed himself hoarse, no Nannie answered. He went up one avenue and down the next, between the buildnigs and around the courts, in this building and out again, until he was ready to drop from fatigue. No Nannie could he find.

At last he said to himself. "I shall just have to stop this running here, there and everywhere, and tiring myself all out, for I shall never find her this way. I must lie down and rest and plan out a systematic method," and he dropped on the grass in the shade of a building to work out his plan.

He was lying there half dozing and half thinking when he thought he recognized the bark of a dog and the meow of a cat, and opening his eyes, who should he see standing there but his old friends, Stubby and Button!

(How in the world did Stubby and Button get to California, do you suppose?)

Southern Jurist Is Law School Student

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 17.—The ancient adage that a boy's never too old to learn still is a favorite with Judge J. M. Reynolds, of the Third District Court of Louisiana. He's 63, but the judge is going to school just the same.

He came here for the summer session of the law school of the University of Wisconsin.

"Although I'm 63," he said, "I still wish to be a student. I wish to be a student all my life. That's the way to learn the new problems that are coming up all the time in the field of law."

Judge Reynolds, who has studied in summer in the University of Indiana, said he intended to return to Wisconsin in the future.

EAGLE ROCK

DAHLIA SHOW TO BE HELD OCT. 4

Expert Gives Instructions On Preparation of Flower Exhibits

In preparation for the big dahlia show coming Thursday, October 4, J. J. Broomall gave a practical demonstration last Saturday morning, at his Rosemont avenue gardens, of how to prepare dahlias for exhibit.

It is largely owing to the efforts of Mr. Broomall that Eagle Rock is known today as "The Dahlia City," states Mrs. C. W. Young, chairman of the Perpetuating committee.

A number of committees to prepare for the event, which is the second of its kind in this community, were chosen at a dinner served by the women of the Twentieth Century club, last week, when representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, Realty board, Improvement association, P-T. A., schools and other civic organizations assembled.

Mrs. M. T. Lee was chosen chairman of the Prize committee and states that all who have not already made their donations known do so at once. Mrs. P. W. Blumer and Mrs. Clausen will head the Classification committee, having full charge of entries.

Mrs. Harrison was appointed chairman of the Schools committee, Mesdames Boyle, Osborne and Reiter being assigned as her assistants. Mrs. F. M. Funge, as representative of the Improvement association, was appointed chairman of the Decorations committee, and will have the task of preparing the Twentieth Century clubhouse as headquarters for the big event.

Mrs. H. I. Cruzan was made head of the Visiting committee and Judge H. I. Cruzan agreed to secure the three judges to make the awards. All plans are proceeding in an orderly, well-regulated manner, it is reported.

SUNLAND

TRANSPORTATION PUPILS' PROBLEM

Glendale High School Board Considers Parents' Views on Bus Service

A meeting was recently held in the Glendale Union High school building by the board of trustees for a hearing on the petition for transportation for high school students living in the Sunland-Tujunga district.

The petition, has presented, favors a proposition made by the Verdugo Hills transportation company, whereby that company offers to furnish transportation to students on contract with the school board of trustees, running a special bus exclusively for the students. Forty-three favorable signatures against twelve unfavorable were attached to the petition.

There are about eighty pupils in the district. Mr. Campbell, of the transportation company, has been running a special bus, pending the hearing, taking the students in from Tujunga and Sunland in the morning and bringing them back in the afternoon.

The school board took the matter under advisement after some signers had evinced a desire to withdraw their signatures.

Should the board of trustees fail to act in the matter, Mr. Campbell has indicated his willingness to contract directly with the parents.

Several students are reported as not yet registered on account of inadequate transportation facilities.

Bryan Gives Theory on Man's Evolution

the law school, I have been made a Doctor of Laws by seven universities, and those seven degrees give me the right to wear twenty-one letters after my name, as well as the other degrees that I hold.

"Now, if these people don't quit calling me an ignoramus I'm going to get a lot of cards printed showing every letter of every degree that I possess, and then I'll challenge any son of an ape on earth to a debate on this question, and when they see those cards maybe they will admit that I am not as ignorant as they thought I was."

Scores Propagandists

While freely admitting the right of anyone to teach the theory of evolution, Col. Bryan is solidly opposed to the teaching of a doctrine that he asserts is contrary to the teachings of Christianity in any institution that is supported by the taxes collected from a nation that is nominally Christian, and the schools and colleges that are supported by taxation must be freed of the teachers who are spreading these doctrines among the young people of the country, he asserted.

Free Taxicab Service Given In Charleston

CHARLESTON, Sept. 17.—Because a city ordinance imposes a fine for operating a taxicab not equipped with a meter, residents of this city were pleasantly surprised the other day to read an advertisement, signed by a local taxicab company, offering "free taxi service to all parts of the city."

The advertisement stated that free service would continue until meters could be instanlled in accord with the ordinance.

At the offices of the company it was said that business was fine.
